EXHIBIT C-1

The United States District Court for the Southern District of New York authorized this Notice.

This is not a solicitation from a lawyer.

A more complete explanation of your rights is available at [web address/long form notice]

Why Are You Receiving This Notice? This Notice provides you summary information about the proposed settlement of a lawsuit involving the debt collection law firm, Cohen & Slamowitz, LLP and some of the lawyers who work there ("C&S"). You have been identified as a class member in this lawsuit. The Court has recently entered an order in the lawsuit that may affect your rights.

What is the Lawsuit About? Consumers who have been sued in a N.Y. debt collection action in which C&S represented the creditor and service of process was handled by Midlantic Process, Inc. ("Midlantic") have sued C&S. The lawsuit alleges that C&S knew Midlantic's service procedures were deficient and that the affidavits of service in those cases were false, and concealed this information from Courts and consumers. Defendants deny these allegations.

Who Are The People Involved In The Case? The Court has allowed the lawsuit to be settled as a class action on behalf of consumers who had been sued in collection actions in which C&S represented the creditor and service of process was handled by Midlantic. If you are receiving this Notice, you have been identified as a "Class Member". There are approximately 48,000 class members. Some, but not all, class members have had money involuntarily taken from them by C&S by wage garnishment, bank restraint, levy, lien or other means and are entitled to additional relief for this reason. There are approximately 7,216 class members that fall into this category, or the "Subclass". Subclass members are entitled to additional relief. According to C&S' records you are not a Subclass member.

Will there be money available if the settlement is approved? Yes. C&S has agreed to pay a settlement amount of $100,000 to be distributed in equal shares to Class Members who file timely and valid Claim Forms. Subclass members who file timely and valid Claim Forms will be eligible for a maximum of $125 each in additional funds. How much each Class and Subclass member will receive will depend on how many Class and Subclass members file claim forms.
